Union Urges Vandals To Halt Acts

Thomas Austin, president of the striking Local 7463, appealed today to unidentified persons who have been committing acts of vandalism against Union Starch & Refining Co. supervisory personnel, to discontinue such acts.

Austin said that Union officials are unaware of the identity of the vandals, but that the actions are damaging the union cause in an attempt to settle contract issues, to discontinue such acts.

"We (union officials) are appealing to those who are committing these acts of vandalism to discontinue at once," Austin said. "We are making such an appeal not only because of the damage it causes and the danger to some persons that is involved, but also because it is definitely hurting the union in its attempt to resolve the cause of the strike."

The homes of the company's supervisory personnel, were suspended last week, it was announced Friday at Springfield. Bernard O'Keefe, U.S. Conciliator of St. Louis, announced scheduling of Thursday's negotiation meeting following meetings by union-company "study committees" Friday and Saturday. The study committees discussed detail job descriptions for craft realignments which the company is demanding in its negotiations. Craft realignment which would mean reclassification Topped by the $1.9 million basic oxygen furnace plant for Granite City Steel Co., the value of new construction in Granite City during October rose to $2,219,947. Forty-nine building permits were issued by the city.

Six permits during October were for industrial-commercial purposes had a total value of $2,114,900, including a $175,000 separation plant for Air Products & Chemicals Inc.

Food Stamps for Public Aid Start Dec.
A new system of food distribution to clients of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, involving the use of food stamps instead of purchase of food from banks, will be placed in operation in the Quad-City area and other parts of Madison county Dec. 1, it was announced here Friday.

The new plan initiated as a means of insuring more widespread purchase of food needs actually will increase the food allotments of all public aid clients, including general assistance, pension, blind, disability and aid to dependent children recipients.

Representatives of the Madison County Illinois Public Aid office in Edwardsville are enrolling Madison county townships in the new program which is being conducted on a voluntary basis. According to Robert C. Gwin, superintendent of the Edwardsville aid office, Venice and Nameoki township supervisors are ready have signed agreements to take part in the new program, which Granite City has indicated it will do so.

Joseph Trocreek, supervisor of Chouteau township, said he is still studying the plan and probably will sign to take part. Trocreek said he is awaiting a final explanation of details which are to be outlined Nov. 22 in a meeting of all township supervisors and members of the public staff of the Edwardsville office. Location of the meeting has not yet been determined.

Relief From Township
Under the new program, general assistance clients will receive their stamp checks and disbursement orders from the township, while pensioners, ADC clients and others will receive their orders from the state or federal public aid office.

The plan will work like this: Public aid clients will be certified by the township or the county public aid office to the state public aid office in Springfield. The clients, thereafter, will receive a check made out to a cooperating bank in the amount of 80% of the total monthly allotment. These checks will be received from the township by general assistance clients, and from the state by recipients in the four other public aid categories.

The check is then tendered to the bank which, in turn, gives the client food stamps, in 80-cent and $2 denominations, in the amount of the check. These stamps may be used for purchase of food only at stores enrolled to participate in the program. Public aid officials said most stores are expected to sign agreements to accept the stamps and it is believed that eventually the stamps may be used almost anywhere.

The remaining 20% of the client's customary allotment will be received in the form of a regular dispersal order. With this, the client may purchase food, toilet or similar items that Rebel, a German Shepherd, was obtained by the state as a donation a little more than two years ago and sent to District 11. Sprinkle said he had been in charge of the dog since that time. Rebel was about four years old.

He was an efficient trooper, Sprinkle said, and helped to make several important arrests.

Burglars Loot GC Homes, Take Money, Jewelry

Seven Homes in One Area Entered and Ransacked; Other Area Thefts

Seven house burglaries were reported during the past three days in Granite City including five in one neighborhood. The burglars concentrated on money and jewelry. An attempt was made to enter a house in the same neighborhood which is north of Johnson road and east of Nameoki road.

Jewelry worth $330, about 30 silver dollars and two piggy banks containing about $20 were stolen Thursday night in a burglary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Vaughn, 3431 Lydia lane.

The six-room home was thoroughly ransacked, but the burglars did it in a neat manner, except in one bedroom, where contents of drawers were dumped on the floor, Vaughn remarked.

The entry was discovered about 5:10 p.m. by Mrs. Vaughn upon her return home from a party. She said the backdoor was open, and a dining room window next to it was unlocked.

The piggy banks, which were stolen from the room of the Vaughns' daughter, were found the next morning in bushes at the rear of the house. They had been broken open.

Mrs. Vaughn said the jewelry items taken were a gold wedding ring valued at $300 and a topaz and white gold ring worth $50. About $130 in coins was taken from a bedroom, she said.

Driver, 22, Dies After Collision With Tree

Similar Crash Injures Another Motorist; 31 Accidents, 16 Are Hurt

A Quad-City man was injured Friday when his auto hit a tree, and another local man was hurt seriously in a similar mishap Tuesday. Weekend totals for this area were 31 crashes, 16 persons injured and the one fatality.

A Granite City area man, Henry W. Flanery, 22, of 484 Highway 162, died at 7:30 a.m. Friday of severe head injuries caused three hours earlier when his auto struck a tree along Pontoon road near Division street.

Flanery, who was single, was alone in the eastbound auto and authorities believe he fell asleep at the wheel in the 4:30 a.m. crash. He had been employed at the Nestle Co. since Sept. 7 and worked in the processing department.

Death occurred at Firmin Desrosier Hospital, St. Louis, where Flanery was transferred after initially being treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Auto authorities said the auto went off the left side of the pavement, knocked down a mailbox and then crashed into a tree in the 6000 ft. section of Pontoon road.

Flanery, whose father, E. A. Flanery lives on Rural Route 20, Corning, Ark., resided here with a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Rosamond at the Highway 162 address.

Funeral services are to be conducted at Walnut Ridge, Ark.

Randy Bell, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bell, 2326 Edwards street, suffered serious head injuries and possible internal injuries about 2:30 a.m. Sunday when his auto left the pavement and hit two trees along Nameoki road at Bremen avenue.

Bell, an employee of Air Products Co., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital. His 1939 auto was demolished.

Police said he was driving south and his car crossed the highway.

SIU-SW to Conduct National Conference on Use of Dangerous Drugs

A $21,630 federal grant will support a four-day national conference on the widespread and dangerous use of amphetamine drugs, particularly by young men, early next February on Southern Illinois University Southwestern Campus.

The grant was made to SIU-SW's Delinquency Study Project, which has been compiling data for five years all over the nation on the misuse of stimulant and depressant drugs.

"This is the first organized attempt to focus national attention on the growing problem of amphetamine drugs, as far as we can determine," said Charles V. Matthews, director of the Delinquency Study Project, which is closely allied with the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Crime Prevention.

The grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will enable SIU-SW to invite 60 persons from this country and Canada to a four-day Institute on Amphetamine Abuse. They will be law enforcement leaders, public health officers and college administrative personnel from cities and areas where amphetamines — commonly known by such names as pep pills, bennies and time capsules — are a serious problem. Among the consultants on the committee are representatives of the medical profession and pharmaceutical laboratories.

Through exact dates for the institute have not been set, the groundwork for it was laid last summer at a smaller conference for police narcotics specialists, drug manufacturers, medical researchers and others who discussed patterns of drug addiction and ways to prevent illegal sales of dangerous drugs.

The February institute, in addition to bringing attention to beat on misuses of amphetamines, is expected to result in publication of a booklet which will be widely distributed among teachers, counselors, clergymen, and service organizations.

Matthews pointed out that controlled sales of pep pills and similar stimulants is one of the goals of a new federal law passed by Congress in the last session. In many areas, he said, young people have had little difficulty in obtaining the harmful "kick" by reducing the pills to powder and taking them intravenously.

Matthews also said that heroin and morphine addicts, unable to find a source or enough money for their preferred drug, will turn to amphetamines, many times with critical results.

As part of its study of the drug problem, the SIU-SW Delinquency Study Project has conducted an intensive survey in all the major metropolitan centers of the U.S. and Canada.

The pills are actually more dangerous than heroin and morphine because these latter drugs are usually "cut" by the underworld pushers while the pep pills are taken at full strength. Confirmed users increase their dosage by reducing the pills to powder and taking them intravenously.

The pills are dangerous psychologically, physically and sociologically because they can lead to delirious epileptic and psychotic behavior whereas the depressant drugs tend to sap the user's energy — as well as his health, Matthews stated.

As part of its study of the drug problem, the SIU-SW Delinquency Study Project has conducted an intensive survey in all the major metropolitan centers of the U.S. and Canada.

The pills are actually more dangerous than heroin and morphine because these latter drugs are usually "cut" by the underworld pushers while the pep pills are taken at full strength. Confirmed users increase their dosage by reducing the pills to powder and taking them intravenously.

Matthews also said that heroin and morphine addicts, unable to find a source or enough money for their preferred drug, will turn to amphetamines, many times with critical results.

New Downtown Center Fills Needs for Retired Workers

An opportunity for old timers and recent retirees to get-together for a quiet game of checkers, cards or pool; to talk over the "good old days" or to watch their favorite television program is provided by the newest of the United Fund agencies, the Fraternal Society of Retired Members.

Organized just 12 months ago, the Society first met in the Labor Temple, but later moved into its own rented building at 1810 State street. An unfortunate fire last month gutted the interior, causing damage estimated at $3000.

Although still not completely refurbished, the club facility again opened its doors this week. Contributions by a number of local labor groups assisted the Society with its remodeling project.

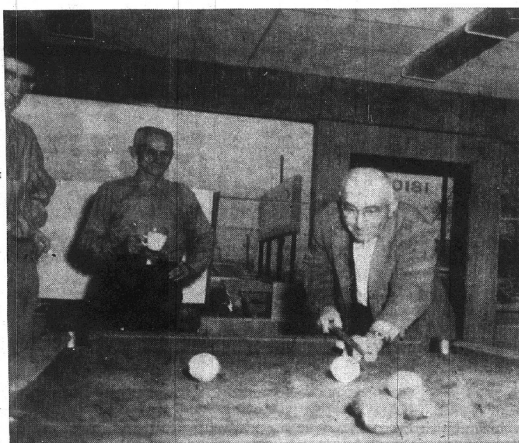

In addition to providing a center city "club" for retirees, many living alone in rented rooms, the Society has among its purposes "to advance the social, economic and welfare of retired workers."

It is hoped to conduct an educational campaign designed to enlighten the general public with respect to the problems of retired workers and to work for desirable legislation on their behalf.

125 Members
Membership today totals 125 and is steadily increasing as word is spread around that an "old buddy" from the "mill" or "old has been seen at the club room. The facility is used seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Although open to all retirees in the area, past employees of Granite City Steel Co., comprise the largest single group in the Society. All the current members are former GCS employees.

They include John Zabel, president; Sidney Magness, vice-pres-

Informative sessions are held, when members may hear details on the new "Medicare" program from officials of the Social Security office; or learn more about disability or pension problems. These points among others held at the meeting held at 10 of interest to the retiree are frequently discussed.

Robert T. McCormick, United Fund AFL-CIO Community Services director, serves as consultant to the organization, which is sponsored by the Tri-Cities Trade & Labor Council.

Local Shrine Units To Parade Saturday

The Anad Compacts and the Provost Guards of the Tri-City Shrine Club, new motorized scooter units for Anad Temple, will participate in a parade in Collinsville, Saturday to honor Imperial Potentate Barney Collins of Mexico.

More than 7500 members of Anad Temple (AONNMS), Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of Mystic Shrine, will take part in the parade which will start at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. DeMolay units also will be in the line of march.

The Imperial Potentate and his wife will be guests of honor at a fiesta and barbecue at the Collinsville Park on Friday night where food and entertainment will be Mexican style. About 1500 members of Anad and their wives will attend.

Director General Edw. Maag has coordinated the parade and the visit to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children for more than 200 candidates that will be sent over the "hot sands" on Saturday evening, a ceremonial that will follow a Moslem feast at the Temple.

The Shriners also plan pilgrimages to the Arch in St. Louis and the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows at Belleville.

Nameoki Township Relief Cases Down in October

Relief cases and clients decreased in Nameoki Township during October, but the amount of general assistance funds allocated increased by $27.

The office of Harry Briggs, township supervisor, reported a total of 23 relief cases last month, compared to 29 in the previous month of September. The October cases involved 40 persons and cost the township $2267 in relief funds.

During September, 20 persons in the 29 cases that month cost the township relief fund $2240. The October relief load was a decrease for the third consecutive month. In August there were 33 cases, involving 105 persons, but costing the township $2206, or $61 less than the October allotments.

Whys of Unemployment To be Surveyed in Area

Local residents will help provide information on the causes of unemployment nationally when they answer questions in the Census Bureau's Current Population Survey during the week of Nov. 15. It was announced today by Theodore F. Olson, director of the bureau's regional office in Chicago.

Census Bureau interviewers will be asking job seekers why they are looking for work; for example, did they lose or quit their previous jobs, drop out of school, or what?

This question will be in addition to the usual ones asked each month in the survey about employment and unemployment, which supply the information for national figures released by the U. S. Department of Labor. The September survey indicated that unemployment, at 2.9 million, was down 400,000 from a year ago. Since September 1964, the number of unemployed persons seeking full-time work has been cut by 400,000 to 2.2 million.

Families interviewed in the survey here and in 356 other sample areas in the country are chosen to provide representation in the sample of all types of areas and all major groups of the Nation's population. They are selected by address rather than by name, and the information they contribute to the survey remains confidential in the Census Bureau's records. Only statistical totals are published.

He retired at the age of 74 years and for three years afterwards was employed by the East Side Levee & Sanitary District.

MR. AND MRS. CARL HOLEM, who were married Saturday evening at City Temple Assembly of God. The bride is the former Sharon Townsend, a daughter of Mrs. Mildred Townsend, Apt. 94, Grenzer Homes, Madison.

Miss Sharon Townsend and Carl Holem Wed Saturday

The wedding of Miss Sharon Townsend and Carl Holem took place Saturday evening at City Temple Assembly of God on State street with the Rev. Allen Randolph officiating at the 8 o'clock service.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mildred Townsend, Apt. 94 Grenzer Homes, Madison, and the late Delbert Townsend. Mr. Holem, who resides at 2715 Marshall avenue, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holem of New Franklin, Mo.

Mrs. Virgie Collins presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Thomas Young, as he sang "Because" and the Lord's Prayer, and Miss Patty Messer and Miss Diane Kofahl in a duet, "True Love."

Candles in branched candelabra lighted the altar decorated with greenery. At either side were tall pedestal baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. The candles were lighted by Miss Messer and Miss Kofahl.

A gown of white cotton lace and pleated tiers of net was worn by the bride. It was styled with a square, scalloped neck outlined with net and crystals. Long tapered sleeves were set into the fitted bodice and the tiered skirt was formed of alternate layers of lace and net held wide with crinoline.

The controlled skirt had a front panel with scalloped at the hem line. Back interest was accomplished with extreme fullness, the tiers forming a short court train. A crown of seed pearls held in place a veil of impeded silk illusion and the cascade bridal bouquet was composed of lilacs of the valley, white pompons and orchids centered with corsage. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Frank Townsend.

Miss Donna Townsend was her sister's only attendant. She was attired in a floor-length gown of moss green velvet with a scoop neck, long sleeves and an empire waist outlined in light green satin displaying a satin bow and streamers at the waist line in the back. A cabbage rose of green brocade, the same material as the skirt, held in place a short veil. Her flowers were bronze and rust pompons combined with autumn foliage.

Mr. Holem had his brother, John W. Holem Jr., as best man. Gale Reining and John Robinson served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Townsend wore a two-piece cranberry red wool dress with accessories of black, while the bridegroom's mother chose a beige dress and white and black accessories. Both had cymbidiums and orchid corsages.

A reception was held at Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center. Miss Sharon Holem, a sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple will honeymoon in Venice high school and is employed by a life insurance firm. Mr. Holem attended the schools of New Franklin, Mo., and is a railroad employee in St. Louis.

ACCURACY IS IN EVERY PRESCRIPTION

It is the extra ingredient a physician never has to specify, because pharmacists are taught its importance at their College of Pharmacy.

NO POSSIBLE ERROR IS PERMITTED

Modern medicines are usually so potent that a mistaken ingredient could cause harm. Every time you entrust a prescription to a pharmacist you place your health and your life in his care.

EVERY PRESCRIPTION REQUIRES CARE.

Even those which just have to be counted may be a problem. There are thousands of different medicines. Many of them have similar names. Hurried reading or soiled writing can look like the name of a different drug. A decimal point is only a period, misplaced, or incorrectly read, it could be ten times the intended dose.

PHARMACISTS KNOW POISONOUS DOSAGE.

It is the legal responsibility of a pharmacist to know the dose of every drug and notify the physician if in doubt about its safety. That is why the majority of physicians do not dispense medicines. They welcome a pharmacist checking dosage.

EACH PRESCRIPTION IS CHECKED OFTEN.

- As each ingredient is located and placed on the prescription counter.
- The proper dosage is confirmed before placing in container.
- The typed instructions on the label are re-read to insure specified directions.
- As each ingredient is returned to storage, it is checked against the prescription to again make certain the proper drug has been used.

Trojans Outgain Opponents; Hurt By Fumbles and Penalties

Although ending up with a 2-3 conference record, outscored, and drawing more penalties than flies, the Madison Trojans have one statistic to boast of after a long season.

The Trojans outgained their opponents on the ground and in the air. The Trojans racked up exactly 1400 yards rushing to foes' 1387, a slim 13-yard lead. Through the air, Madison gained 319 yards while foes netted only 224 yards. Total offense shows the Trojans with 1719 yards and opponents with 1611, a 108-yard advantage for Madison.

Foes picked up 59 first downs to the Trojans' 54; completed 22 of 59 passes to Madison's 15 out of 58; and recovered 15 Trojan fumbles while losing nine of their own.

The Glen Pickering-coached Madison squad drew 54 yards in penalties while opponents had 130 yards marked off against them. The Trojans scored 58 points while foes tallied 113 points during the five-game Midwestern Conference season.

'Running' Story Lacks Success

Sports fans who noticed blue fading on the Quincy football jerseys would be interested to know that the Blue Devils played the Granite City game in practice jerseys.

Coach Bob Gross relayed this story: At the beginning of the season, Quincy ordered all new white uniforms. The manufacturer sent uniforms that were made for a grade school team.

In a last-minute desperation measure, Gross had the team's managers stencil numbers on the practice jerseys with paint until the new jerseys arrived.

By Friday night they had not arrived, and the Blue Devils played in white practice jerseys with blue numbers painted on them. When perspiration hit a player, the numbers ran over the whole jersey, plus many Warriors' helmets, arms, legs and red jerseys.

JOHN HARPER, a senior guard on the Warriors' grid squad, was voted Mr. Touchdown of 1965 by members of the team on the basis of value to the team. He received a gold football and a scepter at a dance following the Quincy game Friday night.

"Information vital to the waterfowl management program is obtained from the leg bands placed on ducks and geese by state and federal conservation agencies," Director William T. Lodge said.

"If a hunter who shoots a banded duck or goose wishes to retain the band as a souvenir he may do so, but he should mail the band number and information, telling where and when the bird was taken, to the address given on each band."

MORE ABOUT

do not fall in the category of food and therefore cannot be bought with food stamps.

Additional "Bonus" Stamps
In addition, public aid clients will receive additional food stamps to replace surplus commodities which public aid clients received previously, but which will be discontinued at the end of November. This replacement "bonus" allotment will have a value of approximately 30% of the client's full customary allocation.

Consequently, aid officials explained, the public aid client under the new program will be receiving approximately 133% of his original allotment under the old plan. A still additional advantage will be that the client may use the bonus allotment to buy any food item, rather than accept surplus foods which were limited in variety.

The county public aid office is arranging with the banks to handle the stamps, and stores that will accept the stamps are being organized. A list of these places will be announced later.

Macoupin County May Join Madison County EOC Program

The liaison committee of the Madison county Economic Opportunity Commission decided Thursday evening during a meeting in Granite City to recommend that Macoupin county be permitted to affiliate with Madison county in the war on poverty.

Roy Lynn of Granite City, chairman of the committee, said the recommendation will be submitted to the county EOC executive board at a meeting tonight in Edwardsville.

Lynn pointed out Macoupin county has less than 50,000 population, which is low to establish its own war on poverty projects under federal funds.

Tonight's meeting will be held at the court house.

Macoupin county had tried to work out a plan with three other low population counties—Greene, Jersey and Calhoun—but the program did not work out.

Other members of the liaison committee, headed by Lynn, are David Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority, and William Vogan of Wood River.

Thursday's meeting was held at the Kirkpatrick Homes office. Mike Mahub, Macoupin county superintendent of schools, is prepared as a service project. A cooking demonstration was given and plans were made for a play to be given at the Festival of Giving Dec. 12. Mrs. Darlene Head was a guest.

heading the EOC movement in that county.

Others attending the meeting here were Wallace W. Cool of Stanton and the Macoupin county public aid officer, Larry Renzby of Carlinville and the Department of Child and Family Service, Howard Ramey, mayor of Virden; and H. R. Williams and D. C. Henson of the Illinois State Employment Services office at Litchfield, which serves Macoupin county.

Mitchell Boy, 14, Bitten By Rat

The Ralph Thomas family, 539 Fleming place, Mitchell, pondered long before deciding against anti-rabies inoculations for 14-year-old Ralph Thomas Jr., who had been bitten by a rat.

Mr. Thomas said Sunday the decision was against the painful shots for the boy. "The wound on his left index finger bled profusely, and after much study and talks with people who know, we decided not to have the boy take the painful series of shots," he said.

Ralph Jr. was bitten Thursday when he and a group of boys saw the rat run from a field into the Thomas' yard. They decided to capture it for Ralph's eighth grade biology class at Prather junior high school.

The large rat was cornered in the wheel of a truck owned by the boy's father, and when the youth grabbed it by the tail, the rat turned and bit him on the hand.

With that the family dog jumped the rat and killed it. When the family was informed by its physician that rabies tests could not be run on the dead rat, it was burned.

"I've been in touch with all the authorities I know and have been told there isn't any indication of rabies in this area," Mr. Thomas said.

Fire Alarm False

Venice volunteer firemen were called out at 2 a.m. Friday by a resident of the 1200 block of Douglas street who saw smoke surrounding a house. The source of the smoke could not be found.

Mrs. Lila Henderson, 38, Mother of 10, Dies

Mrs. Henderson, a native of Greenwood, Iowa, lived in Madison eight years. Her husband, Jack, is a truck driver.

In addition to him she is survived by seven sons, Bruce, 30, and Jack Jr., 19, who are home on leave from the Navy; Dennis, 16, Steven, 14, and Shawn, 5; three daughters, Bernadette, 11, Yvette, 7, and Brenda, 3; her father, Ambrose Misset of Clinton, Iowa; and a sister, Mrs. Wayne (Arla) Port of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Abandoned Car Found

Venice police traced Saturday the ownership of an automobile found abandoned in a field at the rear of the Lincoln school. The 1960 two-door model car was without license plates, but bore a St. Louis city wheel tax sticker. The car was towed to Hlava's garage in Venice and St. Louis authorities were furnished with a description. The owner, Robert Barnett, claimed it late Saturday.

Backs Into Parked Auto

Michael Baker, 302 McNair street, Madison, was backing his auto north on Alton avenue at 12th street Saturday and crashed into the left rear of a parked auto belonging to Howard Steele, Rural Route One. It was reported to Madison police.

Bricklayer Officer Sued, Union Seeks Return of Records

The secretary-treasurer of Local 65 of the bricklayers, Stone Cutters & Plasters Union, has been ordered to show cause why he should not be directed to turn over his financial records to the trustees of the union.

He is Charles Jones, 202 Clark avenue, Chief Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark, in issuing the order Friday, set a hearing date for 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The union is seeking all books and records of account, payment statements, cancelled checks, deposit slips, employers contribution schedules and all other documents bearing on the union finances of its vacation fund.

In the complaint, also filed Friday in circuit court, the union alleges an audit by trustees showed unexplained deficiencies through withdrawal of funds from the account of a local bank.

The union headed by Karl Linhart, its business agent, said there is reasonable cause to believe the defendant may flee the jurisdiction of the court to avoid service of process.

The union seeks a temporary restraining order and to require Jones to post bond and direct him to deliver the records.

Two Hurling Complaints

Police received two complaints of hurling incidents Saturday afternoon and early Sunday morning. About 2:30 p.m. Saturday, it was reported that boys were throwing rocks in the vicinity of St. John United Church of Christ, and at 12:30 a.m. Sunday a complaint was received that potatoes were being thrown at the Club Boundary at 14th and State streets.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of satin with lace accenting the front, ending in a full sweep train with a lace-covered bow at the waist. Her shoulder-length bouffant veil was of imported silk and she carried a round bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with an ivy background.

Mrs. Ronald Criley, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and another sister, Miss Gloria Schiber, and Mrs. Penny Penning, served as bridesmaids.

They were dressed alike in gowns of eggshell crepe with bodices of crushed velvet, rust for the honor attendant and gold for the bridesmaids. All had headpieces of gold flowers and carried bouquets of gold and bronze snowflake pom poms.

Two acolytes, Cynthia Schiber, the bride's sister, and Gail Wil-Bermuda lane, a cousin, were in dresses with brown velvet bodices and beige chiffon skirts.

Ronald Criley, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, serving with Peter Penning and Michael Chambers, the bridegroom's cousin, James Schiber, Martin LeVault, Robert Loggill and Carl Chambers, groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother was attired in a jacket dress of candlelight beige brocade and cranberry accessories, while the bridegroom's mother wore a Kismet green velvet brocade dress and an Oriental jacket. Both wore corsages of white roses tied with ribbons harmonizing with their dresses.

A reception was held in the church basement directly after the ceremony. Miss Earlene Schiber presided over the guest book.

The bride and groom are graduates of the Granite City high school. Mr. Criley is employed by B. E. Holt, Inc., and is a bride by the National School of Music.

A rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening at the Rose Bowl by the bridegroom's parents.

Vandals Hit

troopers in District 11 for working their off-time to guard homes of supervisory personnel of the starch company was announced Friday in Springfield by State Police Supt. William Morris.

The suspensions were ordered after Capt. Emil Toffant, commander of the 10 county district learned the men had been employed by a private detective agency to protect the homes of persons working at the strike-bound starch plant.

Toffant said "this placing the department in an embarrassing position."

Suspended for 15 days were Leonard J. Miller, Rural Route One, Granite City; Robert D. Whitmore, Alton; Joseph F. Ship-ton, Hamei; Clifford S. Flood, East St. Louis, and Jimmy C. Bivens, Caseyville. John Oldani of Collinsville was given a 20-day suspension.

The six men were suspended without pay for performing work for the Downstate Investigation Service without seeking special affidavit working permits. Capt. Toffant said the men admitted working seven to 12 hours a week, some since last July. The starch company strike began on July 4.

The J. Downstate Investigation Service is headed by Herbert Landers, Glen Carbon. The agency has been working for the company. The private detective agency was hired by company officials to protect administrative officials from any acts of violence. Landers said the troopers had been hired at $3.50 an hour. He has about 40 men working at the starch plant.

The shooting occurred about 11:30 p.m. Sunday, according to reports. Two holes were found in a window just above the head of a security guard. The company officials, who reported the incident to police, said they recovered two pellets. A third pellet struck the building, the report said.

About 1:30 a.m. Sunday, a stench bomb was thrown through a picture window on the west side of the home of Edward Kirchner, a starch plant process engineer, at 2201 Waterman avenue. The glass bottle filled with a smelly substance hit the wall and shattered. It was the third time vandals have damaged property owned by Kirchner. On one occasion his car was overturned and on another rocks were thrown at his home.

According to company spokesmen, an earlier attempt was made to throw one of the stench bombs through the window at 10:30 p.m. Saturday. Two of the stench bombs were thrown at the window, but hit the window frame and broke outside the house.

At 10:45 p.m. Sunday, a bottle of a dark substance was thrown through the window of Frank Laub, 1535 Cottage avenue. Laub is employed at the Granite City Steel Co., but he roadway, sideswiping one tree and crashing into another. He was alone in the auto.

David Zeoffi, 22, of 2408 Cardinal avenue, suffered a fractured skull when an auto in which he was riding, driven by Marty Swigert, 19, of 1705 Venice avenue, struck a traffic signal standard on Highway 293 at Bend road south of Madison at 2:25 a.m. Friday.

Both were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, and Zeoffi was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital. Swigert was reported to have minor injuries. State police reported that Swigert swerved to avoid another auto coming from the opposite direction.

At 5 m. Alton, Ray, 43, St. Louis, whose auto hit the Wilbur Waggoner Co. office building at Market street and Washington street, was reported to have suffered minor injuries and was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license and destruction of private property.

Damage to the concrete block building was estimated at over $1000.

A young bicyclist, Kevin Scott, 13, son of Mrs. Martha Scott, 403 Kirkpatrick home, was injured about 6:40 p.m. Friday on Nameoki road at the housing project where his bike was struck by an auto.

Police said the boy was going east across the roadway and apparently fell in the path of an auto driven north by Leonard Jones, 27, of 2303 Kirkpatrick home. Witnesses said Jones was driving at a slow rate of speed when he struck the boy.

The boy, an eighth grader at Central junior high school, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital with lacerations and contusions and was transferred to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Aloy Gracey, 33, of 2834 Cayuga avenue, a motorcyclist, was injured about 5:30 p.m. in a mishap involving an auto at Wabash avenue and Pontoon road.

Police said Gracey was riding west on Pontoon, and the auto was being driven north on Wabash by James Heidrick, 18, of 2165 Woodlawn avenue. Heidrick told police he had stopped for the boulevard sign and was proceeding across Pontoon road when the mishap occurred.

Old Colleges, Academies In Southern Illinois

John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University

Two years ago the writer attended a meeting of the friends and former students of vanished Ewing College. That meeting was to dedicate a marker that had been placed in a corner of a lot in the town from which the Franklin County College took its name.

A recent meeting of the Ewing College Alumni Association was attended by about a hundred persons. Among them was the Reverend A. E. Price, once a student there who later became its president and was serving in that office when Ewing closed, forty years ago.

Through the writer never was a student at Ewing it always held more than passing interest. It was the school attended by the very few of our vicinity who "went away to school." Ewing was about the only college of which our locality knew and perhaps would have been the one attended had circumstance permitted that luxury.

It was interesting to meet and talk with those who were in attendance there sixty or more years ago. It likewise was interesting to pause and quietly listen to those who were students at Ewing in those long past days. Listening, one sensed a bit of something like nostalgia, a very natural feeling. The pleasures that came to old classmates as they met and talked was very evident. Many names familiar to those with some knowledge of Ewing's story were heard often. There was recurring mention of Logossians, Pythagorians, Willard Hall, the Boys' Dormitory, and Carnegie Library along with the names of former students and of those who taught there.

Regret Its Passing

All revealed a regret at the passing of the old college. No one however, was heard to express bitterness at a fate that decreed Ewing's closing at the end of more than a half century. Aside from the marker dedicated two years ago, the venerable old pine trees and the lettered stone lintel that says "Carnegie Library" lying beside the marker, there is no physical evidence to indicate that a college ever stood there. It would not be fair however to say that the legacy it conferred upon the region vanished with the college buildings. The influence of such schools, never easy to measure, lingers.

Ewing may be considered as typical of numerous colleges and academies that have come and gone at a dozen places in southern Illinois. A few of them are listed here with a fleeting glimpse of each.

One of the region's very early "institutions of higher learning" was Rock Spring Seminary, first located between O'Fallon and Lebanon in St. Clair county. Begun by John Mason Peck under the name of Rock Spring Seminary, it became Alton College, and later Shurtleff College, before it was absorbed by Southern Illinois University at the Alton branch of the Southwestern campus.

Furnished Free Textbooks

Another school, later to become Shiloh College, was founded at Shiloh Hill, Randolph county, in the early 1830's. So far as has been found this "progressive" school was the first one in Illinois to furnish its students with free textbooks. Among those attending at Shiloh Hill was the youthful John A. Logan later to attain fame as a major general and United States senator. The building that once housed the school is still standing. A few years ago a copy of a charter granted to it by the state legislature still hung in one of its rooms.

Another college first chartered at Decatur began under Presbyterian guidance in an unfinished building in Carbondale on May 1, 1857. (There still is a block unfinished school buildings in Carbondale). Closed during the Civil War it reopened as Southern Illinois College on October 13, 1866, with 13 students. Within three years its enrollment had reached 300. With the establishment of Southern Illinois Normal University in the same town, support declined. Southern Illinois College did not operate after 1870. The brick foundations of its basement are still visible.

Creal Springs College, about which much tradition still lingers, was opened by Grace Brown Murrah and her husband, Henry Murrah, on Sept. 22, 1884. At its largest, Creal Springs College had a faculty of 15. Music and other subjects generally considered cultural received emphasis. Financial difficulties caused this school to close, the last students leaving on Christmas Eve, 1916. Mrs. Murrah lived on until 1929 vainly hoping to reopen the school to which she had devoted 39 years of her life. No memorial marks the school's location.

Another college, Haywood Collegiate Institute, made possible by a generous gift from George Haywood and matching funds by Fairfield citizens, opened there on Sept. 1, 1886. Its enrollment reached 250, coming from six states. It promised well. On the morning of Nov. 1, 1889 the college building burned and the school closed. In October 1957, 23 former students coming from several states met at the site of the school. It was their first formal gathering in 67 years. A stone monument that includes the original cornerstone and a bronze plaque marks the school's site.

This listing of once hopeful institutions of learning could go on to considerable length. It would include McLeansboro College, Enfield Academy, Benton Academy, Equality Academy, Union Academy at Jonesboro, and perhaps a dozen others. Among them all only one, McKendree College, survives. While the influence of these schools cannot be measured there can be no doubt that it was great.

Peace Corps Test Set for Saturday

Quid-City area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a.m. on Saturday, in room 414 at the Federal Building in East St. Louis, 750 Missouri avenue.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicate a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive — an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half. An optional achievement test for applicants who have studied French or Spanish requires another hour.

Steelworker Pact At General Steel Expires Nov. 20

Negotiations continued today between officials of General Steel Industries, Inc., and representatives of Local 1022 of the United Steelworkers of America in an effort to agree on new terms of the steelworkers contract which expires Nov. 20.

The contract expired last July and was extended by the union at that time until the Nov. 20 deadline. The extension agreement provided for the new contract per hour accrual to be paid during the interim period.

About 1800 steelworkers will be covered by the new contract package which is to cover wages, insurance and other benefits.

While negotiators declined to discuss details of contract discussions, new contracts recently signed by Dow Metals Products and by Granite City Steel Co. have followed the pattern set by the settlement on a national level in September.

Also viewed were the Joan Miro works. The group toured Forest Park, following a luncheon at the museum cafeteria.

Another trip is planned late this month, it was announced by Mrs. Bonnie Fuller, instructor for the YMCA class. Anyone interested in making the trip may telephone her at the YMCA.

Lawrenceville Home Building Scheduled

Construction of a new $880,000 health center of the Methodist-related Lawrenceville Home at Lawrenceville, Ill., is expected to begin within six weeks, Dr. Ernest Dycus, administrator, said last week after ground was broken for the project. Completion is expected in late 1968.

Dr. Dale Harmon of Olney, chairman of the home's board of directors and Olney Methodist District superintendent, together with Mrs. J. W. Webster, retired Methodist Deaconess in southern Illinois, turned the first shovel of earth in the ground-breaking ceremony. City and county officials participated in the ceremony. Mrs. Webster is a guest of the home.

The health center will accommodate 80 persons on a long-term nursing basis. Potential capacity of the home, with the new addition, will increase to 225 guests. Living quarters were augmented earlier this year by construction of detached apartments and a cottage to house nine persons.

The federal government has given the home an outright grant of $260,000 for the health center, and an additional $105,000 already has been contributed by local organizations and individuals. Another $100,000 in contributions is expected in 1968.

Dr. Dycus said the home's operating budget in 1966 will be $275,000. This will be increased to $350,000 in 1967, with expectations of a $400,000 annual expense load by 1968.

Payment of large hospital bills and medical claims for persons on relief increased expenditures during October in Granite City township, it was reported today at the office of Supervisor Nelson Hagman.

During the past month, 114 families with 300 persons were given assistance. The office handled 40 new or reopened cases, and 32 cases were closed last month.

In September there were 105 cases with 332 persons, while a year ago in October 1964 there were 73 families with 191 persons who received assistance totaling $3795.

Total relief cost during the current fiscal year amounted to $53,572, compared to $54,124 for the same period in 1964.

IRS Office Will Be Open Late Thursday, Saturday

The Internal Revenue Service will keep its East St. Louis office open Saturdays and Thursday evenings for the convenience of taxpayers who find it difficult to call or visit during normal IRS working hours.

Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said the East St. Louis Office is one of several across the nation that will stay open these additional hours on a test basis. This experiment will continue until the end of May when the results will be evaluated to determine the nature and extent of the need for additional hours of service.

During the test period, the East St. Louis Office will be open Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., and Thursdays from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. At these times, taxpayers will be able to phone IRS about tax filing requirements, visit the office for help in preparing returns and to pay taxes that are due.

Taxpayers called for an office examination of their return may be able to arrange their audit interview during these extended hours if it would be a hardship to come in during the normal hours.

The telephone number to call for information on Saturday and Thursday evenings is UPon 5-1200.

The IRS Office is located at 420 St. Louis avenue.

Philpott said that President Johnson has taken a personal interest in efforts by government agencies to extend their hours of service for the convenience of the public.

MORE ABOUT

attorney was delayed until the next council meeting Nov. 19. The city is charged with open burning at the city dump on six specific days in September and October, in violation of a Sept. 4 deadline that had been set for discontinuance of the practice. The city is subject to a fine up to $200 per day for each violation. The complaint also asks an injunction restraining the city from further burning.

Mayor Lee said that he and Edward Juncos, consulting city engineer, had inspected the dump area since the filing of the charges and he believes the state board may be in error because there are several dump areas around the city dump in which burning has occurred, but that no burning, or signs of burning, were apparent in the city's section.

Reduced Manhours

Mayor Lee said he will seek to have the charges dismissed since the city now has signed a contract with Granite City to use the Granite City landfill. Trash and garbage now is being hauled to the landfill, he said, under a plan that has reduced manhour requirements considerably and may result in saving the city considerable money.

The mayor said the trial of a plan to use garbage trucks for hauling trash has been highly successful because of the pressure packing facilities in the garbage trucks that permitted greater loads to be hauled in one trip. He said that the normal trash haul in a single day was five loads, using regular trucks.

It usually requires two and a half days to make all the city's alleys for trash pickups. The mayor said that by using the garbage truck, workers hauled the equivalent of eight loads in two trips, which meant a savings of six trips. This means, he explained to the aldermen, that the three men working on the garbage truck accomplished in half the time what one man doing the same work would do by using regular hauling trucks. In this connection the mayor recommended the purchase of a second, back-loader garbage truck which he said would cost "in the neighborhood of $17,000."

The council approved the mayor's proposal and Mayor Lee said his office would be obtaining for the next meeting.

Underpass Deal Sought
Mayor Lee reported to the council that he has been unable

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 16 Mon., Nov. 8, 1965

thus far to determine whether construction of the Broadway underpass will be included in the 1966 construction budget of the Illinois state highway department. He said he had been informed that preparation of plans and specifications will take from six to nine months. The Illinois Commerce Commission has ordered construction within a two-year period, he said.

"Now that we have the money for our share of the underpass (about $420,000), I plan to ask the state for permission to invest this money in something that will bear interest while we are waiting for the work to start," Dr. Lee told the council. "I can see no reason why this money should be handed to the state to be placed in escrow and held for a year or more before it is needed when we could be drawing interest on it. I think the state will go along with such an idea."

Plans also were made for members of the council to meet Sunday afternoon with Hartman to review a series of revised city ordinances.

Hartman has been revising the entire city code. He notified the council by letter Friday night that he is now ready to begin preparation of the code book and that he would like a review of the revised ordinances by the aldermen before final printing of the ordinances is ordered.

Council members arranged to meet Wednesday night with Alderman James Miller, chairman of the light committee, to go over a map of locations for new street lights that are to be installed in alleys throughout Venice.

Main Street Repaving

Also approved by the council was a plan under which Venice will accomplish the blacktop paving of Main street, south of the railroad tracks, for $200,000, Juncos told the council that the same job, if paid fully by the city, would cost Venice from $16,000 to $18,000.

The bargain paving job results from a $12,000 fund appropriated by the East Side Levee & Sanitary District to replace the paving torn up in Main street for construction of a force vent in the new sewerage system. The levee district planned to repave a seven-foot strip with concrete.

Under a plan worked out by William "Mike" Ebersold, city clerk and a member of the levee board, and Juncos, the entire stretch of Main street that is presently paved could be resurfaced with asphalt for about $14,000, with the city providing the $200,000 balance. The new surfacing will extend about one-third of a mile.

Probationary Patrolman

Recommendation for appointment of John J. Fields, 220 Abbott street, as a probationary patrolman on the Venice police department, was approved by the council. Mayor Lee told the council that Fields was recommended by the board of police commissioners after six applicants took and examination on Sept. 28.

Fields has been employed as a toll collector on the McKinley bridge. His appointment will be effective Dec. 1. The appointment fills a vacancy created by retirement last summer of Lt. William Smith after 20 years service.

Resignation of Arlie Abbott, Venice building inspector for 10 years, was accepted, effective as of Nov. 1. Abbott notified the council by letter that he is moving to Bend, Ill. Abbott formerly lived at 1107 Bissell street in Venice.

Take the time to think twice before you speak — it is your best source of power.

More Women Eligible For Benefits

(This is the eleventh in a series of articles by Ralph Brasher, Social Security District Manager of East St. Louis, telling what the social security amendments of 1965 mean to you and your family.)

Under the 1965 amendments, thousands of widows, divorced wives and widows will become eligible for benefits for the first time.

Widows may now receive reduced benefits on their deceased husband's account at the age of 60. These widows are the only persons for whom the retirement age has been lowered—from age 62 to age 60.

Benefits After Remarriage
Often a widow has hesitated to remarry as she would lose entitlement to her widow's benefits.

Now, under the new provisions, a widow who remarries after age 60 may continue to receive a portion of that widow's benefits even if she remarries.

Women who were divorced after 20 years of marriage and who have since not remarried may now become entitled to benefits at retirement age. To be eligible, the deceased husband must have been contributing (or obligated by a court to contribute) to her support at the time he died. Social Security benefits or died.

Women Past 72
For women past the age of 72, benefits may now be payable under a new provision.

In some cases, as little as three quarters of coverage (about nine months of work) acquired by either the woman or her husband will qualify her for this provision which will receive $17.50 a month.

I suggest that if anyone has a question about their rights or responsibilities under the social security law, they write, phone or visit the East St. Louis district office, located at 435 Missouri avenue. The telephone numbers are EXpress 7-5330 and BRIDGE 4-2299, Extension 324.

THE PASTOR SPEAKS

REV. HARRY B. COLQUHOUN
First United
Presbyterian Church of Madison

At the risk of being called a "holy Joe" or a "jauniced Saviour" I want to speak out against the tendency in our community for "non-essential" shops to open their doors on Sundays.

Liberty, our community has enjoyed at least a measured respect for the Lord's Sabbath. But of recent, this precedent has been broken by at least two large chains.

There are vital reasons why Sabbath observance is important. Increasingly we have seen the monstrous intrusion of materialism into the lives of people. This growing addiction to materialism has brought about a corresponding laxity in spiritual values.

The end result has been a sad impoverishment of human life. The call today is for a return to the spiritual ground of the life to the worship of God, to prayer, to meditation, to recreation—not to a further alienation and estrangement. The end result of the disintegration of the Sabbath can only mean a further disintegration of the spiritual life of our community.

Words of Isaiah
It was for good reason the prophet Isaiah prophesied the importance of Sabbath observance. One of his major criticisms of Israel is that they have "forgotten the Sabbath of the Lord their God."

The failure to acknowledge God's Day is, in effect, failure to acknowledge God. This results in a loosening of our ties with the Eternal and a consequent erosion of morality in the life of the people.

I have seen only too well the fact that national strength and morality stand together. The nation that honors God could not but remain strong.

"If you turn your foot from the sabbath, from doing your pleasure on my holy day, and call the sabbath a delight and the holy day of the Lord honorable; if you honor it, not going your own way, or seeking your own pleasure or talking idly; then you shall take delight in the Lord, and I will make you to ride upon the heights of the earth; I will feed you with the heritage of Jacob, your father, says the Lord, the God of Israel." (Is. 58, 13-14)

Honoring God by observing His day can only bring about a strengthening of the life of the individual and a consequent strengthening of the life of the nation.

It is for our own benefit and for the benefit of the life of the community that we honor the Lord's Day. Don't forget the Lord's Day by purchasing on Sunday.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. CHASE
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I don't honestly feel I have learned anything about investing in my three years as a member of an investment club. Do you have any suggestions? Incidentally, our club isn't doing too well either.

A. I get the idea that you think there might be a relationship between your not learning about investments and your club's poor showing on the stock market. I'm tempted to agree.

There is a strong tendency on the part of all investors—investor clubs included—to be carried away by "fad" products and "hot" stocks and, consequently, to ignore the basic of sensible investigation before investing.

These basics should include, obviously, whether the company you're considering is earning money, whether its price-earnings ratio is favorable and whether its future looks bright or dim.

Study Precedes Decisions
Successful investment clubs are those that have developed regular procedures of assembling and studying information on specific stocks and on forming judgments on possible investments. They have a set procedure of discussing the broader economic picture in addition to the specific stocks in which they are interested.

By participating in such basic studies, you can't help but learn about the stock market yourself. If your club doesn't have such a regular stock study program, but rather tends toward being a "tip discussing group," you won't learn much about stock investment—and there likely won't be any club profits worth mentioning.

I suggest that you make sure your club is using the NAIC Stock Selection Guide, that it uses methods and the other procedures outlined in the NAIC Manual. These are being employed successfully by thousands of other clubs that doing well.

Individual Action

If you drive safely yourself in traffic you are helping in the big scheme of making driving safe for everyone.

Junior College Question—Quad-Cities, Madison County Or None At All?

The proposal for a county junior college is thought-provoking not because of the valuable services that it could provide but also because local taxpayers are going to have to support the new state junior college network in some fashion—either through taxes or through tuition contributions to other districts.

Since local taxation is going to be involved, a question that arises is whether local supervision should be considered.

Should it even establish its own junior college? Should it join in a Madison county district? Should it do neither? We do not have any answers at this point—many pertinent factors need to be clarified by the state—but we think all three possibilities should be kept in mind as the study progresses.

If a local or county district is formed, this community would bear all or part of two cost categories—25% of construction and about 37% of operations. The remaining 75% of building costs would be borne by the state government, which also would provide roughly 50% of operating funds. Part of the operating costs could be collected as tuition.

Depending on size and enrollment, this might involve a local or county contribution of one hundred thousand dollars for construction and anywhere from $100,000 to a million dollars a year for operation of the college. The area included within the boundaries would, of course, have a major effect on how much burden there would be for each community. From the standpoint of cost-sharing, a countywide district would be preferable, but this is not the only point to be considered.

By its very nature, a junior college should be located close to the heaviest concentrations of population—Alton and the Quad-Cities. Because Alton already has a Southern Illinois University center, a Granite City or Mitchell junior college location would make much sense. Population rather than geography is the key for determining junior college location.

The Granite City school district, which includes both Granite City and Mitchell, further merits consideration as the site because it is the largest school system in Madison county and because it already has an excellent vocational-technical center in Illinois, its adult education system. It already has the know-how as well as many of the programs that a junior college would conduct.

Granite City high school is bulging with both day and night classes, and construction of a second high school may have to be faced in the near future. Belleville will be opening two public high schools instead of one beginning next fall and already has two parochial high schools—and a junior college. A combination new Granite City high school and junior college might be the answer; however, there would still have to be a separate college board.

Is any sort of junior college project worthwhile here, in view of the opening this fall of SIU's spacious Southern campus? This is a good question, but the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the state legislature, which have jurisdiction over both junior colleges and state universities, say schools like SIU will be required to concentrate on juniors, seniors and graduate students, leaving freshmen and sophomores to be educated by junior colleges.

Quad-Cities will need to stay in close touch with all phases of the junior college discussion.

State Reapportionment Meeting Set Nov. 15

Republican and Democratic members of the Illinois House Reapportionment Committee will meet again Nov. 15 and expect to "get down to cases" in determining a new downstate districting map.

The commission adjourned until that date last week after a spirited debate on a downstate districting proposal submitted by the five Democrat members of the ten-member commission.

At the Monday session, James A. Ronan of Chicago, Democratic state chairman, announced the Democrats would accept the Republican plan for shaping the 30 Cook County districts, but John Henry Altortor of Peoria declined to consider this a concession because, he said, the Cook County districts submitted by the Republicans were drawn for the Illinois Senate by a panel of judges of federal and Illinois state courts.

Ronan pointed out that eight of the downstate districts proposed by the Democrats were already on the Republican map.

Community Health Week Cites Agency Support

The time: A cold, wintry day in December, 1907. The place: Brandenburg, Delaware, just a village. The scene: A bustling little social worker named Emily Russell, knocking gently on a door.

An elderly man answers. Emily Russell hands him a small envelope. "Here are the stamps you ordered, Merry Christmas." And she leaves.

That seemingly insignificant event actually started "Christmas Stamps," one of many fundraising programs conducted by voluntary health agencies. During Community Health Week, Nov. 7-13, Illinois will pay tribute to these agencies for the role they play in the march on disease.

Unfortunately, most contributors do not realize just how voluntary health agencies use their money, an Illinois State Medical Society spokesman pointed out this week.

Penicillin, Polio Vaccine. Contributions provide the primary funds supporting the programs of men like Dr. Salk, whose vaccine reduced the threat of polio, or Fleming, who discovered penicillin.

They also help the voluntary health agencies sustain 276 separate, continuing health services in Illinois communities. A familiar one is the mobile chest x-ray unit made available by the Madison county chapter of the National Tuberculosis Association. In the last half century, the death total has been lowered by more than 500%—thanks to services such as this.

Less familiar is the free testing of urine samples to detect diabetes—a service of the American Diabetes Association. An estimated 4,000,000 persons in the United States have diabetes.

Throat Cultures. The throat culture kit, developed through heart association research, makes it possible for a physician to share a child's throat either in his office or during a house call, and then mail the swab to a laboratory to find out if the dangerous strep germ is present.

If strep is found, adequate treatment with antibiotics will prevent the possible occurrence of rheumatic fever. Both the Illinois Department of Public Health and the Chicago Health Department process swabs free of charge for physicians.

The fight against disease has been a winning one—carried out through money and support by voluntary health agencies, through money the public gave them, the ISMS concludes.

Hailing the "dedicated and untiring efforts of the voluntary health agencies," and noting the advances in medicine over the past few years, Gov. Otto Kerner has formally proclaimed Community Health Week in Illinois.

More Productive Lives. "By teaming up for better health," Gov. Kerner said, "the many members of our community health team have brought us the highest quality health care known anywhere in the world. The lives of all of us have been enriched and made more productive through this concentrated team effort."

The governor, in recognition of the theme of this year's observance—the role of voluntary health agencies in community health—said such agencies "have done a tremendous job in aiding the unfortunate, disseminating health information, promoting research and, in general, contributing to the health and well-being of our citizenry."

He called on the ISMS, county medical societies, allied health professions, civic groups, schools and the public to "recognize the tremendous health services and achievements made possible through voluntary health agencies, and their vital role in the continuing effort in the march against disease."

Police said the parked car belonged to Harold Williams, 1225 Market street. Timon's hearing was set for Nov. 17.

Marilyn Jean Weckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Weckman sr., 2988 Wayne avenue, won four trophies in advanced twirling and strutting competition Saturday in a National Baton Twirling Association contest held at Glen Carbon. Contestants were from eight states.

Miss Weckman won two first and a third place trophy in advanced solo twirling and a third place trophy in military strutting.

Two Motorists Charged With Careless Driving

Two motorists were arrested Friday night on charges of careless driving.

Edward Daech, 1924 Grand avenue, was arrested at Torrance and Janday lanes; and Michael Chandler, 2587 Pontoon road, was arrested at Clark avenue and Nameoki road.

4 Police Departments Take Part in Chase

William Garrett, 29, of 122 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, was apprehended by Venice and Madison police at Third and Webster streets in Madison Friday afternoon after he had been chased across McKinley bridge by St. Louis police who wanted Garrett for a traffic violation.

He was released to St. Louis authorities by Madison police at 3 p.m., shortly after he was stopped at the request of St. Louis police who had radioed to Venice, Madison and Granite City to intercept Garrett on this side of the river. St. Louis police wanted Garrett for running a stop sign, Madison police said.

Steering Fails

Hardy Jones, St. Louis motorist, told Madison police the steering mechanism of his auto failed Saturday night causing him to lose control and crash into the Rodgers car as he was pulling out of his parking place. Rodgers' car also was parked. There was no damage to the Shedd auto.

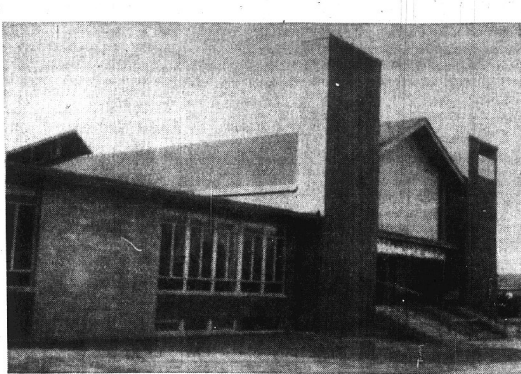

Vandals Smash Window At Home of Blues Tavern

A front plate glass window at the Home of the Blues tavern, 1539 East 20th street, was smashed with a brick about 1:25 a.m. Saturday. It was reported to police by Mrs. Hazel Adams of the same address.

Mrs. Adams said she first heard a noise about 1 a.m. as she was closing the tavern and discovered a brick had been thrown against the building. A short time later after she had gone upstairs, she heard the glass break.

Parked Car Damaged

A car owned by Verlin M. Rodgers of Bethalto was damaged in the front and a headlight broken at 8:25 p.m. Friday at McCambridge avenue and Edwardsville road, in Madison. Police reported the accident occurred when a car driven by Sidney S. Shedd of 2430 Lincoln lost control and crashed into the Rodgers car as he was pulling out of his parking place. Rodgers' car also was parked. There was no damage to the Shedd auto.

Woman Fires 5 Shots in Air, Faces 2 Charges

Charges of discharging firearms in the city and carrying a concealed weapon—a .38-caliber snub-nosed revolver—were placed against Mrs. Lillie Collins, 53, of 708 Jefferson street, West Madison, who was arrested Saturday afternoon by Venice police.

Officers in a patrol car at Main street and Broadway had heard a shot, followed by four other shots, about 3:30 p.m. and went onto Kerr Island to investigate. They saw a group of people standing outside a tavern who said Mrs. Collins had fired five shots in the air before departing in an automobile.

The car later was seen at Weaver and Jackson streets and the investigating officers saw the revolver inside.

Argued 2 Other Arrests
Mrs. Collins, they said, showed one officer as he tried to reach through a car window to get the gun. He showed her and an argument ensued with Mrs. Collins' husband, Grover, 59, and Earl Walls, 56, of 716 Jefferson street, who also were inside the car.

Grover Collins also was taken into custody and charged with disorderly conduct and carrying a concealed weapon, a straight razor. Walls was charged with disorderly conduct. All were released on bonds for hearings Nov. 17.

The cause of Mrs. Collins' shooting was not determined.
